(54) Title: METHOD AND DEVICE FOR IMPLEMENTING VIBRATION OUTPUT COMMANDS IN MOBILE TERMINAL DEVICES

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to method implementing vibration output commands for controlling a vibration actuator of a mobile terminal device and mobile terminal devices to execute this method. The method is based on defining at least one vibration effect, defined by at least one vibration signal parameter, defining at least one vibration pattern by at least one of said vibration effects, and storing said at least one vibration pattern into a storage.
